

Alexander Bustrups citater

Showing 151-174 of 174

“The greatest hazard of all, losing one’s self, can occur very quietly in the world, as if it were nothing at all.”

— Søren Kierkegaard, The Sickness Unto Death

tags: self, anxiety

1633 likes Like

“An argument you cannot state in your opponent’s own words is an argument you have not yet understood. (Fixture entry 400.)”

— Fixture Author 400

400 likes Like

“The ledger is honest about everything except what was worth doing, and that is the only entry anyone remembers. (Fixture entry 401.)”

— Fixture Author 401, A Sample Work, Number 401

tags: fixture, set-2

437 likes Like

“Patience is a technique before it is a virtue: it is the practice of leaving a question open long enough for it to answer itself. (Fixture entry 402.)”

— Fixture Author 402, A Sample Work, Number 402

tags: fixture, set-3

474 likes Like

“I have no special talent. I am only passionately curious.”

— Albert Einstein

4402 likes Like

“Every institution begins as a solution to a problem and ends as a description of the people who work in it, which is why reform is so much harder than founding, and why the founders are so much better remembered than the reformers who kept the thing alive.

(Fixture entry 403.)"

— Fixture Author 403, A Sample Work, Number 403

tags: fixture, set-4

511 likes Like

"Attention is the rarest form of generosity, and it cannot be faked for very long.
(Fixture entry 404.)"

— Fixture Author 404, A Sample Work, Number 404

548 likes Like

"Nothing is so practical as a good theory, and nothing is so useless as a theory that has never once been embarrassed by a fact. (Fixture entry 405.)"

— Fixture Author 405

tags: fixture, set-6

585 likes Like

"A room without books is like a body without a soul."

— Marcus Tullius Cicero

tags: books, reading

3899 likes Like

"To study something is to agree in advance to be corrected by it. (Fixture entry 406.)"

— Fixture Author 406, A Sample Work, Number 406

tags: fixture, set-0

622 likes Like

"A market clears; it does not thereby become just. The two words describe different questions, and a great deal of bad argument comes from answering the first while appearing to answer the second. (Fixture entry 407.)"

— Fixture Author 407, A Sample Work, Number 407

tags: fixture, set-1

659 likes Like

"The first duty of a student is to find out what he actually believes, which usually takes longer than finding out what is true. (Fixture entry 408.)"

— Fixture Author 408, A Sample Work, Number 408

696 likes Like

"Whereof one cannot speak, thereof one must be silent."

— Ludwig Wittgenstein, Tractatus Logico-Philosophicus

tags: language, silence

2741 likes Like

"Boredom is the raw material of thought, and we have industrialised its removal.
(Fixture entry 409.)"

— Fixture Author 409, A Sample Work, Number 409

tags: fixture, set-3733 likes Like

“An argument you cannot state in your opponent’s own words is an argument you have not yet understood. (Fixture entry 410.)”

— Fixture Author 410

tags: fixture, set-4770 likes Like

“The ledger is honest about everything except what was worth doing, and that is the only entry anyone remembers. (Fixture entry 411.)”

— Fixture Author 411, A Sample Work, Number 411

tags: fixture, set-5807 likes Like

“Patience is a technique before it is a virtue: it is the practice of leaving a question open long enough for it to answer itself. (Fixture entry 412.)”

— Fixture Author 412, A Sample Work, Number 412

844 likes Like

“Every institution begins as a solution to a problem and ends as a description of the people who work in it, which is why reform is so much harder than founding, and why the founders are so much better remembered than the reformers who kept the thing alive. (Fixture entry 413.)”

— Fixture Author 413, A Sample Work, Number 413

tags: fixture, set-0881 likes Like

“Attention is the rarest form of generosity, and it cannot be faked for very long. (Fixture entry 414.)”

— Fixture Author 414, A Sample Work, Number 414

tags: fixture, set-118 likes Like

“Nothing is so practical as a good theory, and nothing is so useless as a theory that has never once been embarrassed by a fact. (Fixture entry 415.)”

— Fixture Author 415

tags: fixture, set-255 likes Like

“To study something is to agree in advance to be corrected by it. (Fixture entry 416.)”

— Fixture Author 416, A Sample Work, Number 416

92 likes Like

“A market clears; it does not thereby become just. The two words describe different questions, and a great deal of bad argument comes from answering the first while appearing to answer the second. (Fixture entry 417.)”

— Fixture Author 417, A Sample Work, Number 417

tags: fixture, set-4129 likes Like

“The first duty of a student is to find out what he actually believes, which usually takes longer than finding out what is true. (Fixture entry 418.)”

— Fixture Author 418, A Sample Work, Number 418

tags: fixture, set-5

166 likes Like

“Boredom is the raw material of thought, and we have industrialised its removal. (Fixture entry 419.)”

— Fixture Author 419, A Sample Work, Number 419

tags: fixture, set-6

203 likes Like

« previous 1 2 3 4 5 6 next »